Thomas had charge of the dynamo of the electrical plant and worked at night. He succeeded in scaling the walls by means of a rope and it is thought that he had assistance from the outside. He was convicted at the May term, 1903, and had served only about eleven months of his sentence.

The council will begin with services Sunday and the business sessions will be held Monday and Tuesday. Each church in the diocese is entitled to three representatives who have one vote. In selecting a bishop, the successful candidate must receive a majority of the votes of the laity and a majority of the votes of the clergy. No caucuses have been held, but the subject of a successor to Bishop Dudley has been freely discussed in church circles.

TOURISTS' FUNNY REMARKS

One Woman Wanted to Know If the Grand Canyon Was Open Sunday—"Fried Cupids."

Barton Holmes has been traveling in the summers and telling of his travels during the winters for a dozen years. During that time he has visited almost every country on the globe, and now that he is in New York, he is continually meeting friends whom he first met in Japan, Alaska, Hawaii, India, Algeria or some other foreign country.

"The criticism is sometimes made of the Japanese that they have no religion," said Mr. Holmes, at The Lambs the other day, "but the criticism is not well founded. They have a religion, which, while simple, is superior for their needs, and it has many beautiful features. The religion is known as 'Shinto,' or 'Way of the Gods.' It is a sort of sun worship, and in the temples a rising sun is always a prominent part of the decorations. In fact, it is about all there is in the temples. Some one once said that there is nothing to see in a Shinto temple, and they won't let you see it."

Mr. Holmes says that the most interesting feature of his travels has been the other travelers whom he has met. The comments that some of them make when gazing for the first time on a wonder of nature are execrably funny.

Thus a woman who gazed into the awe-inspiring Grand Canyon of the Colorado for the first time said: "Just as I expected; I knew I would be disappointed. It is not a bit like Colorado Springs." Another woman, when buying in San Francisco, a round trip ticket to the Grand Canyon, cautiously asked the railroad agent: "Is the canyon open on Sundays?" A third woman gazed curiously at a group of naked Moki Indian children, who scampered away at the approach of strangers and ran up ladders with the agility of monkeys, their bronze skins glistening in the sun. Then she said: "They look like fried cupids."

MAKES A LIBERAL OFFER.

Frenchman Will Give His Ears, Nose or Skin to Doctors for Grafting Purposes.

Though the recent story about grafting one man's ear upon another man's head, to make good a loss by the latter, proved to be without foundation, there can be no doubt about the possibility of transferring portions of skin from one human body to another. That operation has been performed with success too many times to be regarded with skepticism. On a more limited scale and with less satisfactory results, surgeons have spliced pieces of bone taken from an animal upon that of a human leg or arm.

The ear-grafting yarn, having been widely circulated in Europe, has led to a remarkable offer. A Frenchman has written to a surgeon named Gillman Livet, to say that he will sell ears, nose or skin for this purpose.

In case Dr. Livet does not need them in his own practice, the correspondent would esteem it a favor if he would hear him in mind in the event of a colleague requiring them. He also suggests that the Academy of Science and the Faculty of Medicine might find use for parts of a living body. "If so please let me know, and I will be most grateful."

He adds a postscript to the effect that the charges for parts of his anatomy will be "moderate at first."

Indeed, it is only natural to suppose that the prices will advance proportionately to the reduction of his person. He also says that special arrangements may be made for the poor who need pieces of him.

Painless Dentistry.

When a Chinaman wants to have a tooth drawn he feels no nervous apprehension of pain, for the excellent reason that he knows his dentist will not inflict any. The latter simply rubs a secret powder over the aching tooth. After about five minutes the patient sneezes and the tooth falls out. Many attempts have been made by Europeans to get some of this mysterious powder, but no one has yet succeeded.

IN HOPKINSVILLE.

Every Claim Is Backed by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Hopkinsville, what can it be?

James A. Twyman, Brick mason of 1230 S. Virginia street, says: "I have suffered from kidney trouble on my case so sharp and continual a succession of pains and aches through my back that I could not rest comfortably at night and arose in the morning lame and sore. I was tired and worn out from morning to night. The kidney secretions were irregular, high-colored and scalding and deposited a heavy sediment if allowed to stand. I had no energy left and felt generally run down. I was feeling worse than usual when my attention was attracted by an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Thomas A. Zahara's drug store and began using them. In a few days I noticed that the secretions had assumed a natural appearance and the pain and aching had been greatly relieved, and by the time I had completed the box there was a wonderful change in my condition. I am glad to state that I am practically cured, and Doan's Kidney Pills will be my friend for life."

NURSERY GARDEN IN JAPAN.

Curious Revelation of What Can Be Done in the Way of Training Dwarf Trees.

A Japanese nursery garden is a revelation, says Macmillan's. There, on benches, in rows, sit trained trees in their bowls or pans of faience. Their perfection is a marvel of patience, requiring years for its accomplishment; sometimes one man will give as much as 30 years' attention to a single little cherry tree. Each curve, each leaf, each twig has its direction and proportion regulated by the most rigid and immemorial principles; and to have any value in Japanese eyes a dwarf must conform absolutely to the iron rules laid down by the canons of taste in the days when Ieyasu Tokugawa paralyzed into an adamant immobility the whole artistic and intellectual life of the country. The effect is, of course, exquisite in its elaborate and rather morbid beauty. But it must be said that there are many dwarf trees, many which go for low prices, owing to the imperfections of their development; they have a hough, or a bend, that is not prescribed. Consequently the Japanese buy them—indeed, with pleasure—but they will not admit their claims to be works of art. Naturally he will buy them, as even so they are beautiful, and their price brings them within the range of everyone's ambition. So, at home, one might buy a Seven instead of a Turner, recognizing the difference clearly, but valuing the cheaper picture as highly as it deserves, and buying it the more readily for its cheapness. However, these Japanese trees that fill the gardens are wonderful, with all their imperfections, and the untutored savage eye of the west entirely fails to see any difference between a perfect specimen ten inches high, three centuries in age, and £20 in price, and its neighbor of equal height, of five years' growth and five shillings value. They are all dainty, and of every kind.

THE NEW ENGLAND STATES

Boston Publication Finds Evidence of Decadence—Can't Keep Up with March of Progress.

New England is stale, declares the Buffalo Times. Too far gone to keep up with the rapid march of progress, it has dropped out of the procession. The Boston Herald finds evidence in recent statistics of the decadence of the group of states not only in political influence and literary eminence, but also in manufacturing and commerce. During the past year national banks increased in number, capital, deposits and aggregate resources in other parts of the union, but in New England there was a smaller number of banks, less deposits and less aggregate resources than at the beginning of 1903. In manufacturing New England has not kept abreast with other sections of the country. The textile industry is in part absorbed by the south and other lines of productive industry are appropriated by the middle and western states.

The Herald believes that special legislation would restore to New England its old-time prosperity, but there is grave doubt as to the advisability of providing it. The Baltimore Sun, discussing this proposition, says that New England is a corner of the country, and a national policy that suits the rest of the union does not necessarily favor a remote corner.

Cliff of Natural Glass.
A cliff of natural glass can be seen in Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. It is half a mile long and from 150 feet to 200 feet high, the material of which it consists being as good glass as that artificially manufactured. The dense glass which forms the base is from 75 feet to 100 feet thick, while the upper portion, having suffered and survived many ages of wind and rain, has naturally worn much thinner. Of course, the color of the cliff is not that of natural glass—transparent and white—but it is mostly black, and some places mottled and streaked with brownish red and shades of olive green and brown.

FOR CONGRESS,
HON. A. O. STANLEY,
of Henderson county.

The Parker men are in control of the Indiana convention, which met yesterday.

Kentucky is not liable to have another attack of the new county fever for some time.

The Louisville Herald is undertaking to raise a fund to enable Jim Howard to appeal his case to the Supreme Court. About $400 of the $2,000 needed has been raised. He has until June 1 to file the appeal.

The Owensboro Messenger says the prices for tobacco are showing a distinct upward tendency on that market, the ostensible motive of the trust being to encourage the farmers to again plant a big crop.

Congressman Stanley has published an interview in his home paper declaring for Parker for President. There are indications that the Hearst men will make a fight for the Second district. They are already claiming the Third, Fourth and Sixth districts.

The Seventh District Congressional convention met at Lexington yesterday, with the result in much doubt. Kimball has 28, Cantrell 16, Trimble 39, Thomas 16 and DeHaven 5 votes. It is Trimble against the field, with 53 necessary to nominate.

The coroner's jury, which investigated the death of Edward L. Wentz, the Philadelphia millionaire whose body was found near Big Stone Gap, Va., returned a verdict of accidental killing by the discharge of his own pistol. The Wentz family is said to be of the opinion that death was due to foul play.

This bit of interesting history is displayed in a show window over a glass case containing a family of Boll Weevils at Little Rock, Ark.: "I am the Boll Weevil, I came from Mex. Co. I destroyed 1,000,000 bales of cotton in Tex. in 1903. I travel thirty miles every year. I will be in Arkansas in three years."

The Courier-Journal is in danger of over doing its fight against Allie Young. If the chairman of the State Committee has no authority to call the convention to order, what is to hinder a series of irregular mass meetings, with no one authorized to preside over any of them? The Kentuckian believes in party regularity and obedience to the will of the majority, and the Courier-Journal's leadership, if followed to the extremes proposed, would cause more harm to the party than any ruling Allie Young might make. Suppose we all keep cool and not climb hills till we get to them.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube and restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Sir Henry M. Stanley, the great African explorer, died in London Tuesday. He was an Englishman by birth and came to America as a stowaway when a lad. He was adopted by a citizen of New Orleans named Stanley and took the latter's name. He served in the Confederacy, and after the civil war, having a taste for adventure and travel, went to Africa. He soon became famous as an explorer and hunter, leading several expeditions into the heart of the Dark Continent. His most notable exploit was his rescue of Livingston, the British explorer, who was lost near the head of the river Nile. This expedition was financed by the New York Herald, and for finding the dying Livingston Stanley was knighted by Queen Victoria. Of recent years he had devoted himself to literary work and lecturing.

Dr. Neander M. Woods, a Presbyterian preacher of Louisville, preached a sermon against horse racing, in which he used the following hot stuff: "Hawling, gambling, cheating, drunkenness, idleness, debauchery and evil living generally are the principal accompaniments of horse racing. The men in charge of the race track are the scum of the earth, and no Christian will go to see a race or bet, or be a stockholder in one of these institutions."

Folk, the Pelon Fighter, is already assured of the Democratic nomination for Governor of Missouri, in spite of the State machine and the active opposition of every interest in the state that dreads a rigid enforcement of the laws. His instructed vote is almost enough to nominate, with many counties yet to act.

The interchurch conference at Philadelphia on marriage and divorce, representing 14 leading denominations, took strong grounds against the re-marriage of divorced persons and called for national laws prohibiting such "progressive polygamy."

The K. I. T. League season opened Wednesday with Hopkinsville at Cairo, Clarksville at Paducah, and Vincennes at Henderson. AFTER TELEPHONE CO

Finance Committee Held a Secret Meeting Friday Night.

They Intend Trying to Put the East Tennessee Tel. Company Out of Business.

Yesterday morning it developed that the night before the finance committee of the municipal legislative boards held a meeting and took up the question of the East Tennessee Telephone company not having any franchise to do business here, and also the matter of the high price for a telephone at fire department house No. 3, and incidentally other questions.

The committee remained in session for several hours. The records of this city show that the telephone company has never gotten a franchise and is doing business without any grant whatever. The committee took up the question of having a suit against the company to compel them to remove every pole they maintain out upon the public streets, and in fact stop their business unless they purchase a franchise. Besides having no franchise, the city officials claim they are not abiding by the law by not paying the $1 annual rental charged them for maintaining poles out upon the public highways. The telephone and telegraph companies claim they cannot be made to pay the annual pole tax.

The telephone company last week instituted proceedings against the city in the circuit court to have tested the license ordinance requiring them to pay $100 yearly license in addition to the $1 annual tax of public streets for every pole they maintain.—Paducah Register.

MEDICAL SOCIETY
Will Meet Next Monday at City Court Room.

The Christian County Medical Society will meet in the city court room at 10:30 in the morning of Monday, the 16th. The entire session will be given to the report of cases, and the day will be an interesting one. All members are requested to come prepared not only to discuss the cases of others, but to report from their own work those that would help the workers—most successes alone, but failures as well. A large attendance is desired.

The State meeting will meet in Lexington on the 18th, and this Society should have a large representation.

A DAY IN THE FOREST

SOME INTERESTING THINGS TO BE FOUND IN THE WOODS.

Ernest Harold Baynes Describes the Pleasures of an Early Spring Exploration—What a Sap
Begin to Flow.

One night recently I found myself at a neat New Hampshire farmhouse, which stands on the border of a forest which I expected to explore on the following day. The country was new to me, and I had arranged for a guide to take me where I wished to go. I arose at daylight, to hear robins, bluebirds and red-winged blackbirds calling across the brown fields, and by the time the sun was up I had had breakfast and was ready for the start. There was still plenty of snow in the woods, and on the hills, so we slung our snowshoes on our backs and set out.

Presently we came to the point where we were to enter the forest, and here we knelt to put on our snowshoes.
My guide, with skill born of long practice, twisted the long, althoide thongs about his feet and ankles, and was ready before I had one shoe fairly adjusted.

We had been walking perhaps ten minutes when the guide said "Halt!"
and, following the direction of his eyes,
I saw standing on a hillside above us a deer quietly browsing at a patch of brown grass which the sun had cleared of snow. It was quite unconscious of our presence as we stood there, but as we started forward again it caught the sound, and raising its pretty head, started straight at us. For just a moment we saw the full face, with the long ears standing out on either side like the wings of a butterfly. The next instant it wheeled, and sprang away up the hill, its broad white tail in the air. Barricade its path was a clump of bushes; at least five feet high they looked from where I stood, but, turning neither to the right nor the left, the little creature simply rose in a graceful arc, and cleared them as a bird might have done. On reaching a safe distance, the deer stopped, turned round and looked at us again for a moment, and then, with a scornful glance, trotted into the woods.

On every hand were signs of deer somewhere well-trodden paths through the snow, at other times a single trail, and my guide gave each a glance in passing, occasionally calling attention to some peculiarity in the footprints.

"That deer was lame," he would say, or "that track was made by a last year's fawn." On examination the truth of the statement was plain enough, but this man was a woodsman, and from his description of the birds it was easy to identify them as piliated woodpeckers, a species with which I am not personally familiar. And a few minutes later I heard one of these big birds hammering on a tree, though had not been several miles from any dwelling, it should have thought for a moment that it was a carpenter nailing clapboards on a house. So powerful are these birds that they sometimes cut down large trees in their search for insects.

Several times during our tramp, we saw small herds of deer feed past through the trees, and once, far away upon a bare hill top, we caught sight of a cow moose. Now and then we came upon a porcupine, or "beelagheg," as my guide called him, and we always stopped for a minute to hear the "porky" whine his disapproval at our intrusion of the forest, and to watch the clumsy fellow climb a little further out of our reach. Foxes we did not see, but, judging from their tracks, they must have been plenty. Long and quietly doubtless accounted for our seeing but one ruffed grouse during the whole day's tramp. Speaking of porcupines, I am sorry to learn that there is a bounty of 25 cents on them in New Hampshire. Surely there is no more harmless creature in the woods if he is left alone, and he does little harm except by eating the bark off, it is a very small matter when compared with even a very insignificant lumbering creature. Long and quiet, it is one of the most curious and interesting of the wood folk in New England, and I for one would be very sorry to miss it from my forest walk.

With these and a few other creatures my guide and I amused ourselves until nightfall, when we trudged homeward past a sugarbush on the roadside where issued the smoke of burning wood and the odor of boiling sap.

PNEUMATISM.

It used to be thought that rheumatism was a disease of the bones. Now we know that it is a disease of the blood. If rheumatism is to be cured it must be cured through the blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures rheumatism, because it purifies the blood from clogging and corrupting substances. It removes the cause of disease. Its effects are the same when the impure blood causes pimples, eruptions, boils, sores, etc. By its perfect purification of the blood "Golden Medical Discovery" removes the cause of disease, and gives the smooth clear skin which belongs with good health.

"I cannot praise your medicine too highly," writes Mr. James H. Crampton, of Shapsgrove, Washington Co., N. H. "I was in business in Baltimore and had rheumatism for three months; couldn't walk at all. I tried the best doctors I could get but they did me no good. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured me sound."

Accept no substitute for
"Golden Medical Discovery."
There is nothing "just as good."

We beg to inform planters and the trade generally that the

QUEEN CITY TOBACCO WAREHOUSE

has been put in order, and with excellent facilities, again opens its doors for the sale of

LOOSE TOBACCO ON THE FLOOR.

Light Weights or in Hogheads, or as our friends may prefer to sell. We invite the patronage of the thousands of our friends, who so liberally patronized us the past season, and earnestly solicit a trial shipment from those who have not so favored us.

We Have Good Quarters for Teams and Drivers in the Warehouse.

That the marketing of Tobacco on the open markets by concentrating the demands, will bring better results to sellers, is self-evident truth. Public meetings, stenographers, typewriters and their offspring "Resolutions," cannot better conditions. But united determination on the part of planters to offer their Tobacco on open markets to the highest bidders will bring face to fact every known demand for Tobacco. Help us to sell your tobacco for good prices by patronizing open markets. It stands planters in hand to think of this.

A STEERING "PROPULSOR."

Apparatus Applied to Steamships Which is Both Propeller and Rudder—Only for Small Boats.

Unlike the ordinary steamship, the fish forces itself through the water and alters its course by means of the same organ, the tail. Several inventors, though, have tried to perform both functions with one piece of apparatus. The first application of the idea—at least of late years—was made to the submarine. Some French boats of that class have been provided with a peculiar joint in the propeller shaft, just outside the stern, so that the screw itself can be swung from side to side. By changing the angle at which the thrust is made against the water, the boat is steered and rudders are made unnecessary.

From a short report made to the department of commerce at Washington from the American consul at Birmingham, it would appear that the same system has been tried on boats which are meant to travel on the surface only, like naphtha launches. An English firm is introducing the invention, but the latter is of French origin. The "propulsor," as it is called, can be applied to any boat already in existence, if it is not too large. How the connections are made is not explained, but the consular report says that it is possible to dispense with the necessity of boring a hole through the stern post, and of supplying a permanent propeller shaft and stuffing box. It can be attached to a boat and removed from the same without any modification of the boat itself. Any one taking this "steering propulsor" to lake, river or the seaside may attach it to any boat he finds there that is within its range of power. As the propeller can be completely turned around, a reverse action is given. The Automotor Journal states that a given number of these transferable propulsors have been adopted by the navies of France, Russia and Japan, and that a 12-horsepower propulsor has been successfully applied to a launch, which towed a 300-ton canal barge with a load of 150 tons of sand.

THE FOOD VALUE OF RICE.

Not So Rich in Tissue-Building Elements as Other Grains—What the Doctors Say.

Certain wise doctors have lately been assuring the world that the Japanese are sure to be beaten by the Russians because they live on rice, which is a food not at all calculated to supply the waste upon the human body caused by the hardships of a military campaign, says the New York Mail. This may be true, though the world will wait and see. Curiously enough, at a time when the physiologists are giving this warning, the rice growers of the United States have combined to teach to the American people the assumed food value of rice and to induce the people, if they can, to consume a great deal more of that grain than they do.

As a matter of ascertained fact, rice is below all other grains produced in commercial quantities in America in its food value—below wheat, maize, rye, oats, barley and buckwheat. It is vastly poorer than any of these in ash, in protein, in fiber and in fat, and surpasses them only in starch. It is not to be thought of for any western people as a main article of food. However, it is not as a main article of food that it is used in this country. Our diet is, fortunately, much more varied than that of the Japanese. Rice is employed in increasing quantity, and to advantage, as a palatable subsidiary article of the national diet. It is a peculiarity of the human stomach that in addition to the nutritive quality in food it demands more bulk. Concentrated foods soon ruin the digestion. The stomach eagerly calls for something to throw away. Rice supplies this demand. As a food which one may take a large quantity of without getting much to eat it is, no doubt, filling a long-felt want in this country.

LATEST USE FOR RADIIUM.

May Pay an Important Part in Warfare as Illuminant for Gun Sights.

The discovery of the latest use to which radium can be put—the illumination of gun sights and the like, at night time—seems to indicate that it will play an important part in warfare, says the London Daily Mail.

In gun sights, leveling instruments and telescopes there is what is called a "fiducial" mark, which is used to obtain a faithful result. These marks, of course, are useless in the dark, and, though many ways of illuminating them have been tried, nothing has proved satisfactory.

Mr. Andrew A. Common, of Eaton-ridge, Faling, was the first to attempt to solve the difficulty by the use of radium, and his experiments were so successful that he has applied for a patent. Unfortunately, he did not live to have it granted, but the complete specifications submitted by Mrs. Common, his widow and executrix, have just been accepted.

Australian Aborigines.

The most peculiar custom of the Australian aborigines is the mutilation of teeth. The boy who wants to be thought a man will often break one of his front teeth.

Why Pills Grip.

Just because they contain harsh and drastic drugs, with nothing to modify their violent. If in need of a laxative, you will obtain satisfactory results by taking Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin, "corrective," not a "cathartic" laxative. Its action is gentle, it assists nature to put the stomach and bowels in normal condition and never sicken; children, as well as grown people, love it for its pleasant taste. The soothing action of the pepsin makes the digestive process perfect. Try it, and you will wonder why you never have before. All druggists sell it. 50c and $1.00 sizes.

Hon. Almon Willis, of Jamaica, Vt., writes: "We have been using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for our little boy and find it far better than any laxative we have ever used for him, and we tried many different kinds."

COURT DRESS IN ENGLAND.

Cabinet Ministers Have Two for State Occasions and They Cost About $1,000 Each.

"Although the king himself wears no distinctive dress in court, except for very special and particular functions," said a court dresser-maker, according to the Hour Glass, "the very considerable retinue of distinguished personages who attend his majesty are constrained by regal etiquette to adopt some special dress or uniform, according to the nature of the occasion on which they make their appearance."

"For example, a cabinet minister, or other high state official, is expected to possess at least two court uniforms, and the same number of civil or dress uniforms, which custom compels him to wear at cabinet councils and similar functions. A complete court dress will cost anything from £180 to £210. The coat is made entirely from royal blue cloth of the choicest and costliest order, richly embroidered with gold thread. About 800 yards of gold thread is used, and it is this indispensable item that makes the garment so expensive. The waistcoat is of the same material, and splendidly embroidered, and to make the outfit perfect there are breeches of the finest white silk, with cream silk hose, and footgear of the choicest porpoise hide, adorned with rich silver buckles. These, with a cocked hat and a sword worn by the side, complete the orthodox court suit.

"More than 5,000 yards of the costliest gold thread are lavished upon the official uniform of the earl marshal, which is, without doubt, the very finest dress for court wear. When complete, this superb suit is sold for £230, and, all things considered, the price is really not exorbitant. The complete court dress of a lord chancellor costs that dignitary the sum of £120. Compared with some of the other court dresses it is rather unpretentious in appearance, but it is made of the finest silk, exclusively woven for this purpose, and that is what makes it a rather costly garment. The correct color for the coat collar of a cabinet minister is Damascus scarlet, while the collars of some other garments vary in color, according to the rank of the wearer, some of the foreign ambassadors wearing white and others royal blue. On these, as on other court garments, there is always bestowed a plenitude of gold thread, and they range in price from £160 to £210."

A Remarkable Competition.

One of the most extraordinary competitions which have ever taken place was attempted the other week in Baltimore. Six unhappy creatures were placed on a platform, each of them opposite a grand piano, and a prize was awarded to the performer who played the longest at a stretch. It was not necessary that the six performers should give the same music; so long as they rendered what the programme calls "intelligent music" it was considered satisfactory. The winner played 50 hours. He lost four pounds in weight and had to be attended by several doctors at the conclusion of the performance. The most striking fact is that five members of the audience sat it out.

To Guide the Wayfarer.

A curious old custom is kept up at the picturesque Wensleydale village of Bainbridge, England, where every winter's night, at nine o'clock, a large horn is blown on the village green to aid any wayfarer, who might chance to be on the surrounding fells, to find his way to the village. The fine horn now in use was presented to the village some years ago, and at one time adorned the head of a huge African bull. The ancient horn in previous use is a good deal the worse for wear, and is kept as an interesting relic.

Largest Woman Land Owner.

Mrs. Charles King, of Corpus Christi, Texas, owns more land than any other woman in the world. Her husband was a famous cattle breeder, and he left her 1,300,000 acres in Nueces, Hidalgo, Starr and Cameron counties, and there are now about 65,000 cattle on her ranges. This vast estate must be kept intact until her eldest grandchild comes of age.

SYSTEMIC CATARRH SO LITTLE UNDERSTOOD

Claims Many Thousands. A Tragedian's Thanks to Pe-ru-na.

ROBERT DOWNING, THE FAMOUS TRAGEDIAN.

In speaking of Peruna, Robert Downing, the famous tragedian, says: "I find Peruna a preventative against all sudden summer ills that swoop upon one in changing climates and water. It is the finest traveling companion and safeguard against malarial influences."

"You may notice that persons in poor health always find the heat most intolerable; this I avoid by using Peruna. I know by the thermometer that the weather is hot, yet I have felt the heat less this summer than ever."

"The cooling action of Peruna on the mucous membrane makes it invaluable to actors and singers, as it does away with that tendency to sudden hoarseness so apt to overtake an actor singing from a hot dressing room to a draughty stage."

"To sum it up, Peruna has done me more good than any tonic I have ever taken."—Robert Downing.

Dr. Hartman was the first physician in the United States to accurately describe systemic catarrh. His remedy Peruna, the only systemic catarrh remedy yet devised, is now known all over the civilized world. A person having used it once can never be persuaded to be without it when in need of such a remedy.

Write for a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book entitled "Systemic Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

TUGGLE CASE

Will Be Tried At Opera House To-night.

Excitement Somewhat Allayed And the Defendant Will be Given a Fair Trial.

The Moot Court at the Opera House to-night is now the chief topic of discussion in the city.

The indications are for a full house, as the court will not exclude spectators from the court room, as long as they maintain order.

As previously announced, Judge Jos. McCarroll will act as special judge. The principal case to be tried is the sensational case of Leslie Aubrey Tuggle, who has been indicted charged with endeavoring by soft speech and other devices "to deceive, injure and pain Joy Herndon, Jean McKee and Mary Jones" by "trifling with their affections." The offense, it is claimed, was committed at a meeting of the Omicron Club, at Mrs. Goldthwaite's, on the evening of April 30th.

Mr. Tuggle went to Crofton on a visit Tuesday and the prosecution, claiming that he was trying to escape, had him arrested and brought back. He promptly gave bond, tendering the following list of bondsmen, worth at least $1,000,000: M. C. Forbes, J. H. Anderson, M. L. Elb, G. Long, J. F. Garrett, E. B. Long, H. C. Gans, J. T. Wall, Sam Frankel, W. T. Cooper, W. L. Hopper, R. C. Hardwick, George T. Herndon, L. H. McKee and T. M. Jones.

In this list are the names of the fathers of the young ladies who are witnesses against Mr. Tuggle.

The friends of the young man are indignant at his treatment in the matter, and public sentiment is strongly in his favor. He was released from custody and is attending to his usual duties as T. M. Jones' store.

He has retained Judge W. T. Fowler and Mr. Chas. M. Meacham as his attorneys and is confident of securing an acquittal. He will be ready for trial to-night.

The prosecution is in the hands of Messrs. John Peland and T. C. Underwood. A number of witnesses have been summoned on both sides.

The following jurors were also made up from the special venire: Julia Arnold, Minnie Armistead, Edith Boulware, Mrs. Manning Brown, Laila Dennis, Neil Donaldson, Jimmie Ellis, Annie McPherson, Katie Quick, Willie Rust, Bessie Russell, Mary L. Starling, Susie Cox and Mildred Hubbard.

The case will be called at 8 o'clock and it is expected that but little time will be consumed in making up the jury.

The trial will be concluded at one session of the court.

HARRY FERGUSON
